

How much does it cost to lay one kilometer of 6-core optical fiber cable

Overview

A practical frame is $40,000–$350,000 per km, with a common mid-range around $120,000–$180,000 per km for standard single-mode fibre in ducted runs. Per-unit considerations include $/km for total project, $/duct meter for ducting work, and $/splice for termination. The initial cost of installing fiber optic cables can vary depending on the chosen installation method and specific project requirements. This guide outlines the main cost components, estimates, and budget ranges to help plan a fiber backbone project. Pricing factors, not just raw materials, drive. These networks are constructed both underground and through aerial fiber, at an average cost of $1,000 to $1,250 per residential household passed or $60,000 to $80,000 per mile. In straightforward urban corridors with existing ducts or minimal permitting hurdles, total per-km costs often land near the low end. Adding switches, high-end enclosures and other issues can also.
