

Standards for Broadband Fiber Optic Cable Access

Overview

IEC Technical Committee (TC) 86—which prepares standards for fiber-optic systems, modules, devices and components—includes three main subcommittees: SC 86A (Fibers and Cables), SC 86B (Interconnecting Devices and Passive Components) and SC 86C (Systems and Active Devices). The Fiber Optic Association, Inc. (FOA) was founded in 1995 to help develop the workforce to build the fiber optic networks to support a rapid expansion in communications and the Internet. This international standard provides recommendations for general cabling systems, including testing requirements for. Telecommunication Industry Association (TIA) Engineering Committee TR-42 develops and maintains voluntary telecommunications cabling infrastructure Standards for user-owned Premises, such as commercial buildings, residential buildings, healthcare and educational facilities, data centers, and. This is the FOA's Online Guide To Fiber Optics, Fiber Broadband & Premises Cabling. It includes almost a thousand pages of materials created by the FOA covering the basics to advanced topics on fiber optics and premises cabling. The goal of this website is educating students, users, designers. Industry standards for optical fiber cables, components, systems and applications continually evolve and progress in an effort to ensure interoperability, performance, uniform testing and support for the latest technologies, bandwidth demand and industry initiatives.
